

PORTLAND SAILING CENTER
Hold Harmless

Release, Hold Harmless and Assumption of Risk. For and in consideration of participation in classes and excursions.

I hereby release and hold harmless Portland Sailing Center, Clifford Mason, their agents, employees, instructors, volunteers or other persons acting for or on their behalf, and the owner and skipper of any boat involved in sailing activities from any and all claims of liability for property damage or bodily injury, including death, arising in any manner from my participation in classes or excursions sponsored by Portland Sailing Center. I expressly understand that participation in these events and any related boating and non-boating activities inherently involves hazards and risks of injury to person and property. I further understand that participation in these events or activities may involve periods of strenuous activity. I hereby affirm that I have no physical or medical conditions which prevent or limit my ability to engage in these activities. It is my intent to willingly assume all of these risks, known and unknown, and to absolve and hold harmless Portland Sailing Center, Clifford Mason, and their agents from liability for these risks.
